FORCE OF NATURE LIVE IN NYC– THE GRIP WEEDS RELEASE THEIR FIRST CONCERT FILM TO DVD AND STREAMING VIDEO

HIGHLAND PARK, NJ– Following last year’s critically-acclaimed studio “concept album” How I Won The War (2015, Jem Records), The Grip Weeds have put together a concert film from a two-hour performance captured in NYC’s Tribeca Performing Arts Center. Professionally shot with multiple cameras and recorded to digital multitrack, Force Of Nature Live In NYC will be officially released December 2nd on DVD from Ground Up Records, the band’s own imprint, and sold exclusively from their website www.gripweeds.com.

Force Of Nature Live In NYC includes 22 songs covering The Grip Weeds’ two-decade history, performed in the band’s electric high-octane style, with a low-volume acoustic mini-set and punctuated by well-chosen classics that display many of their primal Sixties Rock influences.

In addition, via www.concertwindow.com, the band will host two streaming video performances featuring two edited sets from the film: Part One will air on Monday, November 14th at 7:30pm EST, followed by Part Two on Monday, November 21st at 7:30pm EST. The DVD will be available for pre-order at www.concertwindow.com during these web broadcasts as well as from www.gripweeds.com beginning November 22nd.

The Grip Weeds will host a release party on Saturday, December 3rd at The Record Collector in Bordentown, NJ, where Force Of Nature Live In NYC will be available for the first time and celebrated with a special performance.

Force Of Nature Live In NYC will be available in two formats from www.gripweeds.com:
